
AB51

LION

GREY WOLF

KILLER WHALE

ENGLISH

Leopard Seal

Level 3

Small Talk

- How are things? What have you been up to?
- How's the weather today?
- How's the family?

Conversation

- What one skill do you not know but would like to learn?
- Who do you think is the greatest person in your country's history?
- You wake up in World War Z. What do you do?

Grammar: Present Perfect Tense (2)

1. Add 'since/for' to present perfect to say how long you have done something

(* note: action is unfinished*)

I have lived in Shanghai for 5 years.

(it hasn't stopped: I still live in Shanghai)

2. Note difference between finished and unfinished actions

I have been to Beijing

(finished: I am not there now)

I have been in Beijing since Tuesday

(unfinished: I am still in Beijing)

I have studied English

(finished: am not studying now)

I have studied English for 27 years

(unfinished: am still studying)

Colon (review)

The colon can be used for

1. introducing a list

Look at all this stuff: bicycles, skateboards, toys, clothes.
What a mess.

2. introducing a quote

I remember one thing he said: 'if you don't say something nice, I'll kill you with my shoes.'

3. introducing an example

He is the worst husband in the world: in the last year, for instance, he has had 2 affairs and started taking drugs.

4. instead of 'because'

They all laughed and pointed: Dave had forgotten to put on his pants. Again.

Saltwater Crocodile

Great White Shark

Antarctic Skua

Positive Personalities (review)

hard-working

open-minded

selfless

cheerful

helpful

polite

honest

Idioms

game plan - a plan to win, or bring about success

The team didn't panic; they just stuck to their game plan and waited for the other team to tire.

The reason the company failed was, simply, they had an unrealistic game plan going into the market.

get away with murder - to have done something really bad, and received no punishment despite people knowing you did it

When he was a child he used to get away with murder – the punishments his mother handed out were absolutely useless.

United are getting away with murder out there: they are fouling everyone, but the referee isn't doing anything.

give (s/b) a leg up - to help someone get to a higher position that could not have been reached by themselves

Anne knows that she could do a better job than most of the leaders, if only someone would give her a leg up to help her get noticed.

Now that he is a millionaire, it would be easy to forget how it all began; but Dave is still friends with Mr Hughes, the man who gave him a leg up into a management position 20 years ago.

Komodo Dragon

Golden Eagle

Anaconda

Taxi - Dialogue Review + part 3

Where to?

Round it up to.../ Make it...

The corner of...and...

Domestic or International?

Just here is fine

Enter your pin

Keep the change

Don't forget your belongings

Last week I went to a concert on the outskirts of town. After it finished 30 000 people left the arena, all looking to get home. There was no subway line close by, so most people were left to take a bus or a taxi. The queue for the buses was insane, so I thought I would take a taxi; I was, however, in for a surprise, because when I reached the taxis I discovered that none of them had their meters on. They had all agreed to work off-the-meter for the night. On top of this, they refused to take only one person in a taxi, and instead tried to get as many people in their taxi – all paying money – as possible. What a scam, I thought. I went back to the bus queue and began a very long wait.

Bengal Tiger

Spotted Hyena

Killing the Goose that Laid the Golden Eggs

One day a farmer went to the nest of his goose and found, to his surprise, a yellow, shiny egg. When he picked it up it was heavy. When he looked at it closer he saw that it was made of gold.

Each morning after that the farmer returned and found another golden egg. By selling the eggs, the farmer soon had a lot of money. However, as he got more money, so he became greedy.

‘Why should I wait for each egg, one day at a time? I can just cut the goose open and take all the eggs at once.’

So the farmer killed his goose and cut it open. Inside there was no gold.

Moral: Too much greed can ruin what you have

Swordfish

Chimpanzee

Apex predators are animals at the top of the food chain that catch other animals

Humans are also apex predators